JAMES V. TREHY WINS HIS CASE

Judge Chichester Announces Decision in Norfolk Contest Case.

MAKES FORTY PAGES.

Richard W. Peatross Fails to Prove Charges, as Evidence Did Not Show Fraud Had Been Committed.

Fredericksburg, Va., Feb. 3.—Judge R. H. L. Chichester, presiding in the Corporation Court of Norfolk in the contested election case in the suit of Steele and others against Trehy, mailed on Monday his opinion and order dismissing the complaint and awarding the certifcate of election to James V. Trehy, as clerk of court. The opinion is a lengthy one, containing some 40 typewritten pages.

A great many questions originally involved in the contest were not proven and were abandoned by the contestants. It was charged that Richard W. Peatross and James V. Trehy received the greater number of ballots legally cast at the election of November 4th, 1913, for the following reasons: That one of the judges of election at the 5th precinct and one more of the clerks of the election, prepared, or assisted in preparing, or inspected a large number of ballots of persons who voted at said precinct who registered after the first day of January, 1914. It was shown by the evidence that one or two persons who were registered had their ballots prepared by one of the judges of election and that the judges of election inspected, or stood where they could inspect a large number of ballots as they were being prepared by voters. It is charged that these judges and clerks were partisans of James V. Trehy and that the returns were fraudulent in that the returns showed 297 votes were received by Jas. V. Trehy at the said precinct and 43 votes for Richard W. Peatross, when only 296 votes were actually cast. This charge, however, was disproved and abandoned by the contestants.

It was also charged that the judge of election at this precinct remained outside of the room where the other judges were stationed for the purpose of fraudulently marking the ballots and that this arrangement was made pursuant to conspiracy entered into by the judges and clerks of the precinct and James V. Trehy in order to carry the precinct for James V. Trehy and that voters on the outside assisted the judges in the perpetration of this fraud and that all ballots so illegally prepared pursuant to this arrangement were marked for Trehy. This charge of conspiracy was abandoned by counsel for contestants, and a list of persons whose ballots were alleged to have been marked as above set out, was filed with the complaint. It was then charged that certain persons voted at the said precinct who were not qualified to vote, either because of failure to register, or because of failure to pay their capitation tax. It was then charged that other persons who were not in the city were impersonated by others at the polls and voted and that other persons voted more than once. These charges were substantially repeated as of the 6th and 8th precincts, but were totally abandoned as of the 8th precinct, as there were no proofs to substantiate any of them at that precinct.

It developed during the progress of the trial when ballots were produced in court that a number of them had not received the impression of the electoral board seal, but on examination of the ballots at a number of precincts, several of which gave majorities for Peatross and several of which gave majorities for Trehy, showed that this failure to impress the ballots with the seal was due to the fact that the seal was badly worn and it was attempted to impress too large a number of ballots at one time, those in the middle receiving little or no impression. As the case was finally argued, only three questions were passed in argument before the court. First, the absence of the seal on a number of ballots. Second, alleged fraud on the part of the election officers. Third, irregularity in the conduct of the election at the 5th and 6th precincts and misconduct on the part of the election officers at said precinct. With reference to the absence of the seal on the ballots, Judge Chichester held that the question was not raised by the pleadings in the case and was therefore not within the issues. It was pointed out in the argument that Judge West in the trial of the contested election case in Princess Anne county in 1912, had decided that this was immaterial in that our statute did not contain a clause making the failure of the seal on the ballots render such ballots void, provided the ballots were official ballots, that is furnished by the Electoral Board according to law.

On the question of fraud on the part of the judges in the conduct of election, the opinion holds that the evidence fails to prove fraud and that such failure to comply with the law as appeared from the evidence amounted to no more than irregularity in its conduct and misconduct on the part of two of the judges, or one at the 5th and the other at the 6th precincts. Numerous authorities are quoted to substantiate this conclusion and the opinion then takes up the question of irregularities and misconduct on the part of the said judges.

The principal of the law is laid down substantiated by the court and the number of authorities for irregularities and misconduct in attempt of fraud, which are not shown to have changed the result, would not justify a court in throwing out an entire election or any precinct and that while it was a gross violation of duty on the part of the judges to inspect the ballots of voters when our constitution provides that the secrecy of the ballots shall be maintained, yet this violation of the law is not shown to have affected the result in any way and while reprehensible would not justify a court in disfranchising all of the voters at the said precincts. Numerous authorities are cited in support of this proposition and the opinion concludes by dismissing the complaint and awarding the certificate of election to James V. Trehy.

COMMANDANT APPOINTED.

Col. Barnett Selected For Marine Corps by President Wilson.

Col. George Barnett, U. S. M. C., was yesterday nominated as major general commandant of the Marine Corps by President Wilson. He succeeds Maj. Gen. William B. Biddle, whose request for retirement has been granted. Col. Barnett's strongest rival was Col. Littleton Waller T. Waller, who was supported by the entire Virginia delegation in Congress.

Col. Waller also was the ranking colonel of the marine corps, and has made an enviable record as an officer. However, there were several points in his record which made the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Daniels, feel that he could not consistently appoint him.

The chief reason for his failure to obtain the place was that Col. Waller had been courtmartialed in connection with the killing of several Filipino porters during a campaign in Samar under his command. Though he was acquitted by the court, Daniels considered the facts established at that time made it inadvisable for the present administration, in view of its policy toward the Philippines, to select Col. Waller.

It is asserted in marine corps circles, despite denials that naval officers also were influential in defeating. Col. Waller and in urging the nomination of Col. Barnett, as they felt that less opposition to their recommendations affecting the corps might come from Colonel Barnett.

MORE PIPES SOLD.

It is said by experts that a process of preparing smoking tobacco to prevent "tongue bite," discovered a number of years ago by a Richmond doctor, has resulted today in the purchase and smoking of pipes by at least two million additional smokers. That this method, the now famous "Tuxedo Process," is thoroughly successful, there can be no doubt. It has made Tuxedo Tobacco a great general favorite.

Leading tobacco dealers of Alexandria are presenting each customer who purchase 10 cents' worth of Tuxedo with a handsome smoking set, consisting of a stand for a match box, two rests for cigars, and a cigar cutter, all finished in oxidized copper and combined in handy convenient form.

POPE PIUS TAKES IMPORTANT STEP

STILL MAKES CLAIM.

But Willing to Accept Conditions Imposed Over Forty Years Ago When Deprived of Power.

Rome, Feb. 3.—Pope Pius has just surprised the world by what is conceded to be the most important step of his pontificate. This is nothing less than the admission that the Vatican is now willing to accept the condition imposed upon it forty years ago, when Italy deprived it of its temporal power by the confiscation of Rome and the Papal states. The Vatican does not renounce its claim to temporal power; it admits only the futility of hoping to regain it, but this admission is sufficient to permit the establishment of peace between the Quirinal and Vatican. That such a peace will be brought about is now a certainity.

One of the most conspicuous things that will be gained by a settlement of "the Roman question" will be the ending of the self-imposed imprisonment of the pontiffs. For forty years no Pope has ever been known to leave the walls of the Vatican. With the final fall of Rome into the hands of the new kingdom of Italy, Pope Pius IX, the then religinng pontiff shut himself up in the Vatican. He declared himself a prisoner there at the hands of the Italians, who, he said, robbed him of his temporal power and of his means for protecting his person should he ever issue forth.

Pope Leo XIII, his immediate successor, continued this tradition. No one, however, has ever believed that the present Pope was in full sympathy with it, and now this belief has been justifid.

At the national congress of Catholics held at Milan in honor of the close of the Constaine year, in December, Archbishop Rossi, of Udine, a close personal friend of Pope Pius, in the opening address to the congress, made known the future attitude of the Vatican.

He announced that society is now organized on such a basis that an independent political state such as had been conferred on the Popes by Constantine, was no longer necessary to insure spiritual independence of the Pope. This independence he admitted could now be secured by other means which would be just as effective.

There was no surprise here today at the complete refutation by the Vatican of the newspaper story that Pope Pius saw the tago danced in his private apartments, saw nothing wrong with it, and recommended the Venetian furlana to tangoers.

"The story is so inconceivably absurd that it does not need a denial," says a statement from the Vatican. That was exactly the way the initiated viewed the story when it appeared in newspapers in France and America.

The statement continues:

"The recent attempts to revive obsolete Venetian dances here as a pretext to hide the tango under an old name, with the object of evading the condemnation of such dances, are obviously not approved or encouraged by the Pope. The Pope's exalted position, well known piety, old age and unaffected of the world, render unnecessary a denial of the ridiculous stories of his recommending the furlana to replace the tango."

SERIOUSLY CUT ON FACE.

Two Young Men Engage in Fight on South Patrick Street Last Night.

A fight occurred last night at a house on Patrick street, between Prince and Duke, which resulted in one of the participants being seriously cut on the right side of the face.

The man who did the cutting was a visitor in the house, who had been making calls upon a young woman. He, however, it seems, is persona non grata, and when he called last night he became involved in a difficulty with the young woman's brother, during which he drew a knife and slashed the brother across the face.

Considerable excitement followed in the neighborhood, a number of people having been attracted to the scene.

Dr. Moore was called to render surgical assistance to the wounded man, and later the police made an investigation and brought the parties and witnesses before the Police Court this morning, where the matter was aired.

According to the young man who emerged second-best from the fight, the young man who had cut him had applied an ugly epithet to his mother, which caused him to strike the visitor. The latter then drew a knife and slashed him down the right side of the face.

The man who was charged with wielding the knife when asked for a statement, requested that the case be continued, as material witnesses, the defense, he said, were absent. Justice Caton postponed further consideration of the matter until tomorrow morning. The alleged assailant was locked up.

TROUBLE AT A NEGRO BALL.

Officers Kern and Rowlett were called to the colored Odd Fellows' Hall, on south Columbus street, last night to preserve the peace, a row being in progress between two negroes, Eugene Parker and Waverly Lucas. The former had a knife in his hand when the officers entered. Both negroes were taken in custody and brought before the Police Court this morning.

After the evidence of the officers had been heard, Parker acknowledged having the knife, but alleged that he took it from Lucas in order to prevent the latter from using it on him. Justice Caton imposed a fine of $5 upon each.

Officers Kern and Rawlett arrested at the same place last night a negro named Walter Page for carrying a pistol. When they started towards him Page dropped the weapon which was secured by the officers. He was made to face the Police Court this morning and was fined $25 by Justice Caton.

LABOR OFFICIALS GET INCREASES

Mine Workers Vote $10,000 Towards Augmenting Pay of Certain Heads.

EXCITING SESSION.

Tower of Babel Scene, Caused by Men of All Nationalities Talking At Once About Proposed Change.

Indianopolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—Increases in salaries, amounting to about $10,000 a year, were voted late yesterday by the United Mine Workers of America, in convention here. The salaries of the vice-president and secretary-treasurer were increased from $2,500 to $3,300. The salary of the president was increased last week from $3,000 to $4,000 a year.

Other amendments added to the constitution provide a fine of $10 on any officer found guilty of giving the names of the membership to others than officials entitled to them, and make possible the establishment of sick, accident and death benefit funds by districts, sub-districts and local unions, where it is desired by two-thirds of the membership. There was considerable opposition to the sick fund.

A resolution instructing the committee on industrial disputes and trade relations of the United States Congress to investigate the strike in Brook county, W. Va., was adopted, as were also resolutions indorsing social welfare work among the miners, and directing the various districts to levy assessments for the benefit of the Michigan copper strikers.

The convention hall resounded like a tower of Babel when the question of printing the Mine Workers' Journal in other languages than English was under discussion. The union numbers among its members practically every nationality on the globe, and for a time it seemed that a delegate from each nationality was trying to gain the floor and speak in favor of printing the journal in his native language. It was finally decided to change the form of the journal to that of a magazine and publish it in two languages, in addition to English. It was left to the international legislative board to select.

The report of the scale committee will be taken up tomorrow, and the convention is expected to be ready to adjourn tomorrow.

COURT REVERSED.

Decision Tends to Widen Scope of Federal Employers' Liability Law.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A decision tending to widen the accepted scope of the Federal Employers' liability law was handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of Robert H. Burgess, a Southern Railway fireman, killed at Selma, N. C., April 29, 1909, while crossing the railway tracks to get his dinner basket.

The court overruled contentions that because the firemen had left his engine to go to a boarding house he was not in interstate commerce because it was about to haul empty cars across the state line, and that Burgess was not engaged in interstate commerce because his engine had not been hooked to the cars. On the latter point the court found that the fireman had been oiling and rubbing the engine, and that this, under the circumstances, put him in interstate commerce.

It was held that the North Carolina Railroad Company, on the tracks of which Burgess was killed, though operated by the Southern under a lease, was liable under the North Carolina law for injuries to Southern employes.

The decision reverses and sends back for new trial a judgment of $2,000 granted Burgess' executors by the North Carolina courts, on the theory that Burgess was engaged only intrastate commerce.

AT WASHINGTON THEATERS

Belasco—"Marrying Money."

"Marrying Money," a satirical comedy in three acts, representing the joint work of Washington Pezet and Bertram Marburgh, had its first metropolitan presentation in the Belasco Theater last night.

A brilliant audience, including the President and many members of the diplomatic corps, did honor to this, the first serious dramatic effort of the son of the Peruvian Minister.

The story opens at a summer resort on the coast of Maine, where R. Lyman Niles, a Wall street speculator of supposedly great wealth, unfolds the tale of his utter ruin to his socially ambitious wife and daughter, whereupon the mother drags her daughter into a promise to marry for money, the opportunity seeming easily available in the announcement of the prospective visit of the enormously wealthy Mr. Vanderpoel and his aunt.

Young Vanderpoel arrives with his chum, Jimmie Sweeny, and falls easy victim to the charms of the designing Miss Niles. Follows an elopement, and the honeymoon at a small mountain inn, where both parties to the marriage learn that the motive which has prompted each has been the same, but unfortunately the girl has married the wrong Mr. Vanderpoel, he of another and very poor branch of the family, and so they find themselves with their German landlord demanding his money, while there is not a penny between them.

Gayety—Al Reeves' "Beauty Show."

Aside from the baseball season there is one time during the year when Washington business men are swamped with requests for a half-day off and married men find it necessary to go back to the office to finish up work, and that time is when Al Reeves and his "Beauty Show" come to the Gayety. Next to Walter Johnson in the box, Al Reeves' "Beauty Show" is the best excuse for a half holiday, and judging from the two capacity houses which greeted its opening yesterday at the Gayety, this week will prove no exception.

Andy Lewis, Al Reeves, Zella Russell, Vera George, thirty-two 'chickens" and "broilers," plenty of fun and catchy music are among the many reasons why the "Beauty Show" is the best on the road. Despite Al Reeves' plea in his song hit, "Give Me Credit Boys," the gallery gods by their applause clearly indicated that the success of the performance is due to that inimitable comedian, Andy Lewis, and to Zella Russell, one of the cleverest women in burlesque.

Believing that in femininity lies beauty there are but three men in the cast and thirty-four sprightly maidens. That a chorus girl's life is one full of changes was proven by the elaborate wardrobe worn by the chorus. No less than a dozen costumes were displayed, and each more daring and startling in their effect than the previous one. The chorus is by far the most attractive and best drilled that has visted the Gayety this year.

REBELS MENACE MEXICO CITY

Capital in Precarious Condition Surrounded by Insurrectionists.

FEDERALS RUSHED.

Generally Agreed that Huerta is Nearing End of His Rope and in a Desperate Position.

Mexico City, Feb. 3.—Menaced on both east and north by the rebels, Mexico City today was considered to be in a precarious position. In the opinion of military diplomatic attaches here, the end of General Huerta's military power is in sight. This of necessity means the collapse of his claim to the provisional presidency.

While the federals under General Maas, on a rush order from General Blanquet, minister of war, were today hurrying to the defense of Torreon on the north, on which the constitutionalist are marching, the fifth regiment, the crack troops of the capital, were being loaded on a special train for Vera Cruz to combat the rebels in Oaxaca to the east.

It was reported here that General Felix Diaz, who has been in retirement at Havana, will shortly return to Vera Cruz, and from there join the revolutionists at Oaxaca. It was expected here that a battle in the state would take place at San Geronimo within a few days.

In the event that either the constitutionalists under Villa, or the rebels under Diaz are victorious, their next objective point will be Mexico City. Should the Federals be defeated both in the north and east the capital would be at the mercy of both bands of revolutionists.

Diplomats today agreed that Huerta is in the tightest place of his career, and an invasion of Mexico City either by constitutionalists, Felicistas, or Zapatistas is regarded as very probable within a few days.

FORCED ASIATIC ISSUE.

Wishes of Administration Ignored, Taking Risk of Offending Japan.

Washington, Feb. 3.—In defiance of the wishes of the administration, expressly communicated to the Democratic leaders, and at the risk of offending Japan, the House yesterday plunged into consideration of the question of Asiatic exclusion, and a vote was taken indirectly showing the temper of a majority of the members present to be against Japanese immigration. Before the question of Asiatic exclusion was sprung the House, by a vote of 120 to 173, had voted to retain the literacy test provision in the measure, as written by the immigration committee. Representative Goldfolge, of New York, had proposed as an amendment that the provision be stricken out.

Representative Everis A. Hayes, of California, a Republican, forced the Asiatic issue, immediately after the Goldfolge proposition was lost, by offering an amendment that would keep out of this country all non-caucassian people. The test vote came on a proposal to modify this by exempting those counties with which the United States has or may have agreements or treaties as to passports. The modification was adopted by a vote of 112 to 90, without a roll calh This was in committee of the whole, and could be rescinded in the House proper.

The vote remains to be taken on the Hayes amendment, thus modified.

SEGREGATION LAW INVALID.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 3.—Race segregation laws here seeking to separate the whites and blacks in definite parts of the city stand adjudged unconstitutional on a technicality.

The city yesterday lost an appeal in the State Circuit Court seeking to overturn a lower court's verdict of unconstitutionality.

VICTIMS OF SWINDLER

Checkflasher Obtains Nearly $100 From Alexandria Merchants Saturday

Several Alexandria merchants were the victims of a well-dressed "check worker," who arrived here Saturday and succeeded in cashing a number of checks after making small purchases. They later received the following note: "Do not deposit Electro check. N. G. This saves you ridicule and protest. I am west." It was signed "J. A. Ellis." The letters bore Washington postmarks.

The stranger who came to this city Saturday afternoon armed with checks on the Arlington Trust Co., of Rosslyn, Alexandria County, succeeded in obtaining $69, so far as can be learned. After making small purchases at a number of stores he offered a check made payable to "J. A. Ellis" and all were signed N. H Jones, treasurer, Electro Plating Company." The words "treasurer" and "Electro Plating Company" were made with a rubber stamp.

Among the victims, it is said, were, H. Friedlander, $16.50; Swan Bros., $12.50; Lowenbach & Bros., $21; Howard Bros. $20; Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., $14.50.

The swindler is described as about 40 to 45 years old, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches in height, weighs 175 to 180 pounds rosy complexion, wore dark clothing and overcoat, and checkered cap. He was a "good talker."

The vessel will be about the size of the tug Rosalie now in service in the Smoot fleet, but will be a modern towboat in every particular. She is to be of light draft, so that she can go into shoal places where the sand digging machines now operate to obtain sand and gravel for building operations here. Mr. Smoot now has in service two tugboats and a number of dredges and lighters.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

CHURCH AND WORKINGMEN.

Rev. Dr. Skinner Delivers Sermon in Richmond on Present Conditions.

Richmond, Feb. 3.—Preaching on "Laboring Men and the Church," the Rev. T. Clagett Skinner, D. D., pastor of the Second Baptist Church, said Sunday night that investigation showed that the proportion of laboring men in the churches is diminishing, and that the degree of neglect among wage-earners is unquestionably greater than among other classes. Total depravity and infidelity could not be given as the reasons, he said, though they had been put forward as main causes of neglect. But, from letters he had received, he gathered three reasons for church neglect, and in the first place, he said, he found that "labor leaders have in many cases poisoned the mind of these men by inflammatory and incitive utterances. Many of these men have not been able calmly to weigh these utterances, and consequently many minds are embittered against organized Christianity." Another reason was stated to be the fact that the laboring classes could not dress well enough to go to church. The third reason lies in resentment against the employer whose giving is made up from a decrease in wages, and the consequent suspicion of the church wherein this class of employers parades.

But, Dr. Skinner said, "all the selfishness is not on one side. There are selfish and unreasonable employers, and there are selfish and unreasonable employe.

"The church should not censure, but approve and encourage, the same combinations of laborers for the protection of their own interests. The acts of violence and oppression perpetrated by the unions are, of course, to be denounced but the unions themselves are lawful and necessary. The speaker said he knew of no reputable political economist of any school who does not approve of the organization of labor. Capital combines to control the price of labor; and labor is helpless to protect itself without organization.

DEATH OF PROF. POE.

Cousin of Poet and Inventor of Forerunner of Pulmotor, Stricken.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 3.—Prof. George Poe, a cousin of the poet, Edgar Allan Poe, a noted scientist and inventor who had been mentioned for the Noble prize, died in this city yesterday of paralysis. Prof. Poe was 68 years old. He had been ill for a number of years, but despite his illness perfected and patented the artificial respirator which was the forerunner of the pulmotor. He formerly lived in Washington.

Prof. Poe was born in Hanover county, Va., on May 8, 1846, and was a cousin of Edgar Allan Poe.

WORKS TO RESUME.

Richmond, Feb. 3.—The Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works will be running full blast within the next three weeks or a month.

The order for twenty engines—fourteen of the Mallet type and six of the Pacific type—recently placed by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company with the American Locomotive Company, will be built here, according to announcements made by President Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and the general manager of the local plant.

That these engines will be built here is due to the efforts of President Stevens, who, it is understood, notified the American Locomotive Company that unless the orders were referred to the local branch they would be awarded some other concern.

At the local branch this morning it was said that work on the engines would begin in earnest in about three weeks or perhaps a month. Foremen have been notified of the re-opening of the plant.

NEW VALLEY RAILWAY.

Trolley Line is to Extend Through Winchester And Other Towns.

Winchester, Va., Feb. 3.—Arrangements are being made, according to reports from Martinsburg, W. Va., to begin active operations early in the spring on the building of the electric railway line from Williamsport, Md., through Martinsburg, Winchester, Strasburg, Woodstock and southward as far as Harrisonburg, and it is stated that the work will be rushed as speedily as possible.

A wealthy railroad contractor who lives in one of the towns to be touched by the new road was in Washington and Baltimore last week on business in connection with the work, and it is understood other contractors have expressed a desire to bid for portions of the construction.

The syndicate, which is known as the Shenandoah Valley Railway Company, and which has its main office in Martinsburg, has not as yet definitely determined which route to use in order to runa spur into Washington. One route, which was surveyed a year or more ago, extends eastward from Winchester, through Berryville and thence, to Bluemont, the southern terminal of the Washington and Old Dominon Electric Railway Company.

STUART'S FIRST APPOINTMENT.

Richmond, Feb. 3.—Governor Stuart made his first appointment today when he named James B. Doherty to succeed himself as labor commissioner. Doherty has served as commissioner by appointment of Governors Tyler, Montague, Swanson and Mann.

RICHMOND BAND ARRESTED.

Musicians of the Blues Fail to Appear to Play For Ball.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 3.—P. Colivata, chief musician of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Band, and ten members of the organization were arrested last night under orders from Maj. E. W. Bowles, commandant, because they had failed to report at the armory to play for a military ball in honor of the cadet battalion of the Virginia Military Institute. The refusal of the musicians to play, according to a statement by Maj. Bowles, is a breach of discipline, the members of the band being enlisted members of the Virginia Volunteers. When they did not appear a military patrol was ordered to round them up, and they are now confined in the police station awaiting action on the part of the military authorities.

The Richmond Blues battalion is well known throughout the North and South as one of the crack military organizations of the country, and the ball last night was one of the features of the inauguration of Gov. Stuart.

"GETS-IT" FOR CORNS ON YOUR PIGGY-WIGGIES!

good-bye Johnnie. You apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds—no fussing with plasters that don't stay put, with salves that make corn "pull" and make the toe beefy and raw, with knives, scissors, razors and diggers that make corns grow faster and that may cause blood poison from cornCutting and corn-bleeding. "GETS-IT" shrivels up the corns, they come right off. That's the new principle. It's just common sense. No more corn-pains. "GETS-IT" is safe, and never hurts the flesh. LIFE OF GOVERNOR HENRY C. STUART.

Henry Carter Stuart was born January 18, 1855, at Wytheville, Va., the son of William Alexander Stuart and Mary Taylor Carter Stuart. The founder of the American branch of the Stuart family was Archibald Stuart, who came to America in 1726 from Scotland, where the family has for a thousand years been one of the most important clans, and has furnished long lines of kings for the Scottish and English thrones. Among the most notable members of the family in this country have been Major Alexander Stuart, who won fame during the Revolutionary War; Judge Stuart, an appointee of President Thos. Jefferson as Territorial Judge of Illinois; Archibald Stuart grandfather of the present Governor and for many years a member of Congress; Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, Confederate cavalry leader and uncle of Governor Stuart, and Alexander H. H. Stuart closely related and sometime Secretary of the Interior. On his mother's side Mr. Stuart is descended from the Carters of Virginia.

After going to the public and private elementary schools at and near his home, young Stuart went in 187 to Emory and Henry College, from which he graduated four years later with a bachelor's degree. The next year he completed the law course at the University of Virginia. The honorary degree of LL. D., has been conferred upon him.

Mr. Stuart commenced his business career in 1874, becoming a partner with his father in extensive breeding and grazing interests in southwest Virginia. He became the general manager when the business was incorporated in 1884 as the Stuart Land and Cattle Company, afterward holding the position of president and treasurer.

Prospering in mineral and timber ventures, Mr. Stuart made money to buy back the family estates when they passed out of his father's hands. His holdings now constitute the largest live-stock establishment east of the Mississippi.

Mr. Stuart repeatedly refused to become a candidate for public office. In 1901, however, while away from home and against his express wishes he was nominated by the Democrats of Russell county for the Constitutional Convention. He was elected and served with distinction as Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and as a member of the committee on Finance. Two years later, on appointment by Governor Montague Mr. Stuart was made a member of the newly organized Corporation Commission, in which capacity he served until 1908. For his services in this connection he came into no less prominence than for his work as a member of the Constitutional Convention. He has represented his State in country-wide politics when a delegate to the National Democratic Convention, in 1892. For three years, beginning in 1902, he was a member of the Board of Visitors of the University of Virginia.

Virtually wiping out a Republican majority of 4,100 of two years before, Mr. Stuart was in 1910 nominated for Congress in the Ninth District in spite of his emphatic refusal until the call of the party overcame his private reluctance.

He was nominated for Governor without opposition and elected almost unanimously, a double compliment never before paid a candidate for the governorship of Virginia.

WHAT IT COSTS TO BE A WORLD POWER.

Japan is experiencing the enormous expense incident to posing as one of the great nations of the earth. Her financial state is causing the thinking portion of the empire great concern, as conditions are becoming more alarming daily.

The terrible drain upon the Nipponese exchequer as the result of the war with China some time ago was sufficient to alarm statesmen of the island kingdom, while the fact that Japan did not acquire any territory from which additional taxes could be collected was exasperating to many of her people. Her conflict with Russia which followed closely in the wake of the war with the flowery kingdom resulted in the loss of thousands and a terrible drain upon the resources of the nation, while by the terms of the treaty of Portsmouth virtually nothing was added to the dominions of the Mikado.

Despite official utterances to reassure the public Japan is declared to be suffering from an economic depression. In the northeastern section a famine has made the situation practically acute. In some cities schools have had to close because there was no money to pay the teachers, and because the children, weak from the lack of food, were unable to attend.

The chief cause of the general depression, which began about the time of the death of Emperor Mutsuhito is the heavy taxation of the people which is necessary to pay the interest on the national debt of over $1,000,000,000.

The wave of elation among the people at the close of the war with Russia and a patriotic business boom also caused a general rise in the standard of living and the price of commodities soared as a result of the more luxurious level of expenditure. Then came a reaction. This was due to the burden of extraordinary taxes to meet the war debt and constant expenditures in the building up of a big army and navy.

BOY BURGLARS UNDER FIRE.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 3.—Trapped by a burglar alarm early Sunday morning in the store of Harry Friend at du Pont, which they were robbing, two boys were fired upon by Friend, and one was wounded so that he may die. Thomas Chowanis, 16 years old, was shot in the spine and his right shoulder, and his pal, John Kudy, 18, dodged the bullets from Friend's revolver by crouching behind sacks of flour in the rear of the store.

Kudy, who was arrested, is now at the State police barracks, and is said to have confessed that he and Chowanis have robbed numerous stores in du Pont, and he has admitted that they twice successfully looted the Friend store. Friend has not been arrested.

IF OUR GRANDMOTHERS HAD ONLY KNOWN MUSTEROLE!

How they would have welcomed it! For they knew the blessed relief that the old-fashioned mustard plaster gave for colds, aches and pains.

But they had to take the blister and the burn with the plaster.

You can get mustard's wonderful effect, without the plaster and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Don't spread MUSTEROLE on a cloth. Don't bind it on with a piece of flannel.

Just massage it in with the finger tips briskly. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

And there is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Croup, Stiff neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents pneumonia).

NEWS OF THE DAY

Capt. Berry, of the Merchants' and Miners' steamship Nantucket, which rammed and sank the Old Dominion liner, Monroe, off the Virginia capes with the loss of forty-five lives Friday morning, will have to stand trial. A committee appointed by Secretary of Commerce Redfield, after consideration of the report of Inspector Robert E. Tapley, held that Cat. Berry was negligent. Capt. Berry will be tried by the Federal Steamboat Board at Philadelphia. The trial of Capt. Berry can either exonerate him or cause the suspension or revocation of his license to command or assist in the command of any vessel licensed by the United States government.

Supplementing statements made by him last week, as well as reports to the State Department direct from Ambassador Guthrie, at Tokyo, Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, yesterday assured Secretary Bryan that reports that his government had in any way aided the present Mexican government by supplies of arms or munitions of war were totally without foundation.

Francisco I. Guzman, special envoy from Felix Diaz to Gen. Villa, arrived in Jaurez Sunday morning. He was tried by court-martial Sunday afternoon and executed late Sunday night. Guzman was charged with treason in having instigated the revolt against late President Madero. Guzman's mission was to induce Villa to accept Diaz as leader of the Constitutionalist movement of Carranza. Villa refused to listen to the proposition and gave orders for the arrest and court-martial of the envoy.

The Rev. Wilbur [illegible] Berry was sentenced to four months in jail at Portland, Me., yesterday for criminally libeling Justice Haley, of the Supreme Court. The case will go to the law court on exceptions. The alleged libel was contained in articles written by Mr. Berry an appearing in the Civic League Record, the organ of the Christian Civic League, of which the defendant was secretary. The article criticised Judge Haley because of his disposition of liquor cases.

Judge Thomas Ventress, prominent in Alabama politics was burned to death in a fire which destroyed two buildings at Atilla, Ala., early yesterday.

The charred bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hopkins, of Cincinnati, were taken fro mthe Little Knawha river, near Parkersburg, W. Va., yesterday. On Sunday the wreck of a gasoline launch was found in the river near Creston, and, on the theory that the craft had blown up and its occupants killed, the authorities ordered the river dragged. Hopkins and his wife had been visiting at Creston and last Thursday started in their launch for Elizabeth W. Va.

RECEPTION IN RICHMOND.

One of the Most Brilliant Affairs Ever Witnessed in State Capitol.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 3.—Gowns of historic grandeur were worn by the ladies who graced the reception given at the executive mansion last night by Governor and Mrs. H. C. Stuart. Quaint and gorgeous jewels that are precious heirlooms were mingled with the smartest present day importations. Not since the days of the old aristocracy had social Richmond witnessed such an impressive scene.

Until the hour of midnight the great blue room in which stood the receiving party was thronged by beautiful women in handsome toilets. This was a purely democratic function, however, and the man or woman whose apparel contrasted sharply because of its simplicity with the French models was greeted with the same cordiality as he or she who heeded fashion's latest dictate.

Never before in its history was the capacity of the governor's mansion so taxed. The entire lower floor were soon crowded, and patient callers were content to take their place at the end of the line that extended to the gateway. While the congestion caused slight inconvenience, the members of the governor's staff and others who were helping greet the guests handled the great throng in such a way as to preclude the accidents that so frequently occur in such crushes.

Mrs. Stuart, ever vivacious was particularly attractive on this occasion, and by her cordiality made each one of the thousands whom she greeted feel repaid for their patience. Miss Stuart, though she has never formally taken part in society, played the part of hostess with a grace and ease beyond her years.

The historic executive mansion, which has stood for more than 100 years, is exceptionally well arranged for entertaining, and probably never before was it more tastefully decorated. With the entire lower floor thrown open to guests Mrs. Stuart and her party stood in the large reception hall at the right of the entrance. This room was banked with American beauties and palms. Beyond it stretched the ballroom embowered with pink roses, while about its white columns twined smilax and bronze-tinted olive leaves.

Scarcely a more beautiful scene could be pictured than that lent by the whole effect—the handsomely gowned women; the floral decorations, and the gilded Louis XIV furniture amidst which were arranged unique cabinets and oriental vases and pottery.

The beautiful reception demonstrated equally as clearly that as the "first lady of Virginia," Mrs. Stuart is going to take the Old Dominion back to the past when its capital was the center of social gayety that resembled courtly splendor.

Already she has arranged a program of functions which is calculated to make the executive mansion a social center. Tomorrow afternoon she will receive in compliment to the visitors from the southwestern section of the State. On February 20th she will hold a large reception and dance. The hours for the older folks will be from 9 to 11, at which time the debutantes will be given precedence and permission to tango. In certain of the new dances Mrs. Stuart sees grace and beauty, and having a daughter who enjoys them, she proposes to give the young people many opportunities to indulge in such pleasure.

Mrs. Stuart, who is a lovely and fascinating woman, wore an imported gown of white brocaded velvet, lined with rose pink chiffon and made with a long court train. The overdress of crystal and silver net was finished in the back with a butterfly arrangement of silver and lace and edged at the bottom with white fox fur. The bodice was formed of softest white tulle and silver embrodery, and she wore a diamond pin to fasten the white aigret in her coiffure. Her bouquet was an exquiste affair of gardenias, and her ornaments were old family pearls that have been worn by many generations of beautiful Carter women.

Miss Stuart, daughter of the Governor and Mrs. Stuart, is a petite blonde, and her gown of shell pink charmeuse was very becoming. It was trimmed with flounced panniers of illusion, edged with pink velvet, and a small French bouquet of forget-me-nots caught the girlish drapery at the waist.

At least twenty-nine men are believed to have perished in the storm which swept the English channel Sunday. In addition to the loss of nineteen lives from the German bark Hera, which went ashore off Falmouth, wreckage was picked up yesterday indicating the loss of the traveler Fleetwood with her crew of ten men.

R. P. ANDREWS PAPER CO., Washington, D. C.

November 3, 1913.

Mr. Frank C. Steward, President,
Steward's Business College.
Dear Sir:

I wish to offer you my hearty congratulations upon the really remarkable success of Steward's Business College. I know of no institution in Washington in the last twenty years that has made such wonderful strides in such a short space of time as your college has. It is possible, however, that when one thoroughly understands your methods that your phenomenal growth will not seem so remarkable, and I believe that as people become to understand it your future growth will be greater than your past and present.

Assuring you of my wishes that my prophecy will come true, I am

Most sincerely yours, R. P. ANDREWS,
Prest. and Gen'l. Mgr. R. P. Andrews Paper Co.
